Los Angeles Go Red For Women Luncheon, April 25

The American Heart Association invites women in Los Angeles to learn about their heart and keeping it healthy at the 2012 Go Red For Women Luncheon. The half-day event will include a health expo, free health screenings, educational breakout sessions and a heart-healthy luncheon. The speakers will include Katherine Wolf, a young mother and wife from Culver City who suffered a stroke at the age of 26, and Kathy Magliato, MD, cardiothoracic surgeon and Board President of the American Heart Association's Greater Los Angeles Division, who will reveal the 10 Ways to Dodge the Scalpel.

The event is sponsored nationally by Macy's and Merck, and locally by Huntington Hospital. White Memorial Medical Center is the Go Red Por Tu Corazon sponsor.

Heart disease, stroke and other cardiovascular diseases are the leading causes of death in women, claiming the lives of 430,000 women every year. More women die of cardiovascular diseases than the next four causes of death combined, including all forms of cancer. Go Red For Women raises awareness of heart disease in women and empowers them to take charge of their health.
